Acquiring a Good-Will.

Speaking of the high cost of getting a start in business, a friend in a near by town tells us that the sum of $5,000 is asked for the "good will" of a certain small concern, exclusive of stock and fixtures. The business is supposed to pay $2,000 a year inclusive of owner's salary.

It costs so much to buy out an established business, unless the same is forced on the market, that starting a new concern commonly seems more hopeful. But if in the old time way, a man simply hangs out his shingle and waits for trade to come, the prime of life may be gone before he gets it.

The same result can be had in a fifth the time by efficient advertising.

Enterprise and truth telling are the qualities that draw trade. To prove that he has enterprise, and is wide awake enough to protect the customer's interest, a merchant must take the initiative and make a vigorous push for business.

A newspaper advertisement can be placed in every home for 1 per cent. of the cost of personal solicitation. It is read when people are at their leisure, in a mood to listen to what the merchant has to say.

Good advertising gives an impression that the merchant is alert and energetic in meeting public needs, and a public impression of that kind is a "good will," having a large cash value. It is like money on interest in the bank.

Returning to our starting point, if instead of paying $5,000 a year for that business, a man should spend $500 a year for two years in advertising, he would have $4,000 in his pocket and a better business standing.

Garrett-Hendrix.

Winchester society will be interested in the announcement of the marriage Monday morning at Paris of Miss Grace Garrett, of this city, to Mr. C. H. Hendrix, of Owingsville, which was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Lightfoot, of Paris.

Miss Garrett is a daughter of Hon. Green Garrett, Railroad Commissioner of the Eastern District, and a Republican of State-wide prominence, she is remarkably beautiful and attractive. Mr. Hendrix is a former student of Kentucky Wesleyan College where he is very popular.

The marriage was not a surprise to the intimate friends of the couple but many did not know just when the event would take place. It is not known where the couple will spend their honeymoon. They left Winchester Monday morning and motored to Paris, where the ceremony was performed soon after their arrival. Both the bride and bridegroom have numerous friends here who wish them the greatest happiness in the world.—Winchester Sun.

Miss Garrett has many friends in this county, where she has often visited, who will be interested in the above announcement.

TITANIC DISASTER

As Told by One of the Surviving Passengers

--J. B. Thayer, Jr.

Was Son of 1st Vice President of Pennsylvania R. R.

The following statement was dictated recently by J. B. Thayer, Jr., the seventeen year old son of Mrs. J. B. Thayer, of Haverford, Pa. This is the only statement that he has made:

"Father was in bed, and mother and myself were about to get into bed. There was no great shock. I was on my feet at the time, and I do not think it was enough to throw anyone down. I put on an overcoat and rushed up on 'A' deck on the port side. I saw nothing there. I then went forward to the bow to see if I could see any signs of ice. The only ice I saw was on the Well deck. I could not see very far ahead, having just come out of a brightly lighted room. I then went down to our room and my father and mother came on deck with me, to the starboard side of 'A' deck. We could not see anything there. Father thought he saw small pieces of ice floating around, but I could not see any myself. There was no big berg. We walked around to the port side and the ship had then a fair list to port. We stayed there looking over the side for about five minutes. The list seemed very slowly to be increasing. We then went down to our rooms on 'C' deck. All of us dressed quickly, putting on all our clothes. We all put on life preservers, including the maid, and over these we put our overcoats. Then we hurried up on deck and walked around, looking out at different places until the women were all ordered to collect on the Port side. Father and I said good-bye to mother at the top of the stairs on 'A' deck. She and the maid went right out on 'A' deck on the port side and we went to the starboard side. As at this time we had no idea the boat would sink, we walked around 'A' deck and then went to 'B' deck. Then we thought we would go back to see if mother had gotten off safely, and went to the port side of 'A' deck. We met the chief steward of the main dining saloon and he told us that mother had not yet taken a boat, and he took us to her. Father and mother went ahead and I followed. They went down to 'B' deck, and a crowd got in front of me and I was not able to catch them, and lost sight of them. As soon as I could get through the crowd I tried to find them on 'B' deck, but without success. That is the last time I saw my father. This was about one-half an hour before she sank. I then went to the starboard side, thinking that father and mother must have gotten off in a boat. All of this time I was with a fellow named Milton C. Long, of New York, whom I had just met that evening.

"On the starboard side the boats were getting away quickly. Some boats were already off in a distance. We thought of getting into one of the boats, the last boat to go on the forward part of the starboard side, but there seemed to be such a crowd around I thought it unwise to make any attempt to get into it. He and I stood by the davits of one of the boats that had left. I did not notice anybody that I knew, except Mr. Lindley, whom I had also just met that evening. I lost sight of him in a few minutes. Long and I stood by the rail just a little aft of the Captain's bridge.

"The list to the port had been growing greater all the time. About this time the people began jumping from the stern. I thought of jumping myself, but was afraid of being stunned on hitting the water. Three times I made up my mind to jump out and slide down the davit ropes and try to make the boats that were lying off from the ship, but each time Long got hold of me and told me to wait awhile. He then sat down and I stood up waiting to see what would happen. Even then we thought she might possibly stay afloat.

"I got a sight on a rope between the davits and a star and noticed that she was gradually sinking. About this time she straightened up on an even keel and started to go down fairly fast at an angle of about thirty degrees. As she started to sink we left the davits and went back and stood by the rail about even with the second funnel. Long and myself said good-bye to each other and jumped up on the rail. He put his legs over and held on a minute and asked me if I was coming. I told him I would be with him in a minute. He did not jump clear, but slid down the side of the ship. I never saw him again. About five seconds after he jumped I jumped out, feet first. I was clear of the ship, went down, and as I came up I was pushed away from the ship by some force. I came up facing the ship and one of the funnels seemed to be lifted off and fell towards me about fifteen yards away with a mass of sparks and steam coming out of it. I saw the ship in a sort of a red glare, and it seemed to me that she broke in two just in front of the third funnel. At this time I was sucked down, and as I came up I was pushed out again and twisted around by a large wave, coming up in the midst of a great deal of small wreckage. As I pushed it from around my head my hand touched the cork fender of an overturned life boat. I looked up and saw some men on the top and asked them to give me a hand. One of them, who was a stoker, helped me up. In a short time the bottom was covered with about 25 or 30 men. When I got on this I was facing the ship. The stern then seemed to raise in the air and stopped at about an angle of 50 degrees. It seemed to hold there for a time and then with a hissing sound it shot right down out of sight with people jumping from the stern. The stern either pivoted around towards our boat, or we were sucked toward it, and as we only had one oar we could not keep away. There did not seem to be very much suction and most of us managed to stay on the bottom of our boat.

"We were then right in the midst of a fairly large wreckage, with people swimming all around us. The sea was very calm and we kept the boat pretty steady, but every now and then a wave would wash over it.

"The assistant wireless operator was right next to me, holding on to me and kneeling in the water. We all sang a hymn and said the Lord's prayer, and then waited for dawn to come. As often as we saw the other boats in the distance we would yell "Ship Ahoy!" but they could not distinguish our cries from any of the others so we all gave it up thinking it useless. It was very cold and none of us were able to move around to keep warm, the water washing over her almost all the time.

"Towards dawn the wind sprang up, roughening up the water and making it difficult to keep the boat balanced. The wireless man raised our hopes a great deal by telling us that the Carpathia would be up in about three hours. About three-thirty or four o'clock some men on our boat on the bow, sighted her mast lights. I could not see them as I was sitting down with a man kneeling on my leg. He finally got up and I stood up.

"We had the second officer, Mr. Lightoller on board. He had an officer's whistle and whistled for the boats in the distance to come up and take us off. It took about an hour and a half for the boats to draw near. Two boats came up. The first took half and the other took the balance including myself. We had great difficulty about this time in balancing the boat as the men would lean too far, but we were all taken aboard the already crowded boats and in about half or three quarters of an hour later we were picked up by the Carpathia.

"I have noticed second officer Lightoller's statement that J. B. Thayer was on our overturned boat, which would give the impression that it was father, when he really meant it was I, as he only learned my name in a subsequent conversation on the Carpathia and did not know I was 'Junior.'

Said purchaser shall also furnish two public watering places for beasts at points to be located by said city; provided, however, these watering places shall not be used for carrying away water for private consumption. Twelfth—Said purchaser shall do no work upon any of the streets, alleys, public squares or public places in said city except upon the direction of said city and under its control, and shall hold said city harmless from any damage that may occur to any person or property by reason of the construction or operation of said water system. All work shall be done in a careful and expedient manner and all streets, alleys, public squares and public places on which work is done shall be put in as good condition by said purchaser as they were before said work was done.

Thirteenth—It is understood and agreed that the rights and privileges granted said purchaser hereunder are not exclusive.

Fourteenth—This franchise or privilege is assignable by the purchaser, but the person, firm or corporation, receiving same if assigned, shall be bound by all the terms, stipulations and conditions provided for herein. This franchise or privilege, however, shall not be assignable to any one not responsible, and such assignment shall not be valid until same is approved by the City Council of the City of Mt. Sterling, Kentucky.

Fifteenth—After a period of twenty years said city shall have the right to purchase said water system at a price to be fixed by three persons; one to be selected by said city, one by the owner of said Water System and the other by the two aforesaid.

Sixteenth—This ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and publication as provided by law.

HON. W. J. FIELDS of Olive Hill, Carter county, as a candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on Saturday, August 3rd, 1912.

RE-ELECT THE PRESENT TRUSTEES.

On next Saturday afternoon, May 4th, between the hours of one and six o'clock, at the school house, there are to be elected three trustees, the terms of Messrs. Owen Laughlin, W. R. Thompson and L. T. Chiles being about to expire, and being desirous of seeing our school continue at its present high standard, we place the gentlemen above named in nomination as pre-eminently fitted to succeed themselves.

Mr. Laughlin, while advanced in years, takes a keen interest in all matters pertaining to the school, and being a gentleman of high character and excellent business judgment, his services as a member of the board are of inestimable value.

Dr. Thompson possesses like qualifications and in addition is young and active, making a very desirable member, while the very thought of our public school causes one to unconsciously think of Mr. Chiles. In point of service he is the oldest member of the board. For years he has guarded the interests of our school as zealously as he has the interests of his own family. Many years ago, when the tax levy for school purposes was tied up by litigation, it was he who borrowed the money—signing the notes personally—with which to pay the teachers, in order that the school might not suspend. In fact, when you strike our school you hit Mr. Chiles in a tender spot.

We do not know how these gentlemen feel about it, but imagine they are still willing to serve the public, and we therefore hope they will be re-elected without a dissenting vote.

Nice Compliment

For Mt. Sterling Man.

Charlie Greene, who has been with this office for the past six years, and most of that time as foreman, resigned his position last Saturday, and left Sunday night for Indianapolis, Indiana, where he goes to learn to operate the linotype. Charlie Greene is a splendid christian young man, and his stay with us was a very pleasant one to us. He was thoroughly reliable and trustworthy. He was always careful in selecting the best associates, and was prominently identified with his church. And when he left, the town lost one of its best young men.—Jellico Advance Sentinel.

For the Ladies.

The early business in chemisettes and guimpes has been of enormous volume, says the Dry Goods Economist, but there has been a recent falling off in the demand, owing to the approach of warmer weather, when the average woman will leave off her chemisette for greater comfort.

Without doubt a fair-sized business in these will continue throughout the summer, as there are many women who cannot wear collarless effects, while the big business in these accessories will be resumed in the fall.

The new tunics of lace or all-over embroidery, recently featured, are showing indications of becoming excellent sellers. Fichus have been taken in conservative quantities, awaiting the say of the woman on the other side of the counter. Little business can be done in fichus until warm weather, as they are adapted for wear without coats.

According to the Dry Goods Economist, among the best popular sellers are the waist or dress sets consisting of a Dutch collar and cuffs. These are taken in every variety of material, lawn or batiste with Venice, Cluny or ratine lace, pique, modified Turkish toweling and ratine being among the most favored.

Mr. John M. Stevenson, of Winchester, while in Louisville Saturday, issued the formal announcement of his candidacy for Chairman of the Democratic State Central and Executive Committee, to be decided at the coming State convention. He expressed the utmost confidence in his race, based on letters from all over the State assuring him of support.

Mr. Stevenson is one of the most prominent attorneys of the Winchester bar, and in Central Kentucky. For twenty years, or over since he attained his majority, he has been prominent in Democratic councils. He is regarded as one of the ablest stump speakers in the State and an orator of exceptional ability. He had frequently been mentioned for Congress in the old Tenth district, but was always content to stand aside in the interest of others. He is the chairman of the Clark County Democratic Committee and was the manager in Clark county of Gov. James B. McCreary's campaign for United States Senator four years ago.

He is a native of Franklin county, was reared in Scott county and has been a resident of Winchester for eleven years. Mr. Stevenson, who is 39 years of age, is a son of the Rev. Thomas J. Let the Policy Lapse

James T. Harrahan, ex-president of the Illinois Central railroad, who was killed in a railroad accident at Kinnmundy, Ill., this week, dropped a $10,000 accident policy in the Aetna Accident & Liability last April. He had carried it three years, and with the double indemnity and accumulations it would have amounted to $26,000 if he had continued it.

Neither man expected to be killed, one thought he might be and was prepared, the other—"Took a chance." No man can afford to "take a chance" on something that he cannot replace; a LIFE is worth too much.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

COME OUT IN THE GARDEN, MAUD.

(Judge.)

Come out in the garden, Maud,
Come out and get the air,
Perchance the sun is shining,
Perchance the sky is fair,
Or else the rain is pouring,
Or snowflakes dropping there.

Come out in the garden, Maud,
And look for tender shoots.
Perchance the birds are trilling
Like animated flutes—
But you'd better bring your skates,
Also your rubber boots.

Come out in the garden, Maud,
And wear your thinnest tulle;
But bring along your earlaps
And keep your mittens full.
You'll want your fan and sunshade
And thickest coat of wool.

Come out in the garden, Maud,
And try your Christmas skis.
You creepers, lest it freeze;
Also bring the garden hoe,
To plant the early peas.

And breathe the balmy breezes,
And watch the tulips grow,
And see the hall and sunshine
And rain and mud and snow!

IF THE TELEPHONE GIRL SHOULD TELL.

The Telephone Girl sits still in her chair, And listens to voices from everywhere. She knows who is happy, and who has the blues, And the kind of language that we all use She knows our sorrows—she knows our joys, She knows every girl that is chasing the boys.

She knows our troubles, she knows our strife, She knows every man who is mean to his wife. She knows every time we are out with the boys, She hears the excuses each fellow employs.

She knows every woman who has a dark past, She knows every man that is inclined to be fast. In fact, there's a secret 'neath each saucy curl, Of the quiet, demure little Telephone Girl.

If the Telephone Girl should tell all she knows, It would turn half our friends into bitterest foes. She could sow a small wind that would soon be a gale, Swamp us with troubles and land us in jail.

She could turn loose a story, that gain ing in force, Would cause half our wives to sue for divorce. She could get the churches mixed up in a fight, And turn all our days into sorrowing nights.

She could keep the whole town in a terrible stew, If she'd tell but one-tenth of all that she knew. Now, doesn't it set your brain in a whirl, When you think what you owe to the Telephone Girl?

Tobacco Bill Passes.

A year's work by Representative J. C. Cantrill, seconded by Senator Bradley, in behalf of special legislation for Kentucky tobacco growers, was successfully consummated when the Senate unanimously passed the Cantrill tobacco census bill. This provides that semi-annually the Director of the Census must report on the amount of unmanufactured leaf tobacco in the hands of manufacturers and dealers, so that growers may know market conditions and fix their prices accordingly.

He Made a Mistake.

"I am pleased to meet you again," he said. "Thank you," replied the lady, who had once been his wife. "How are the children?" "What children?" "Ours." "We never had any." "Oh, I beg your pardon. It was very stupid of me. I mistook you for some one else."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Penny for Every Ten Dead Flies.

In answer to an offer of the city to pay a reward of a cent for every ten flies delivered dead at the City Hall, school children of Cleveland, Ohio, are "swatting the fly," with vim and vigor. The crusade will continue two weeks, when the offer expires.

City health authorities believe that every fly killed at this season of the year means the absence, so to speak, of 90 per cent. of the pest.

TIRED RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

A North Carolina Man Suggests a Remedy

Greensboro, N. C.—"For a long time I was so run down and debilitated that I could hardly drag around. My appetite was poor and I could not sleep nights. I had tried different so-called tonics without benefit. I was advised to try your cod liver and iron tonic. Vinol, and I am so glad I did, for it gave me a hearty appetite, I soon commenced to sleep soundly, and I feel strong, well and more active than I have for years. Every run-down or debilitated person should just give Vinol a trial." K. Allsbrook. What Vinol did for Mr. Allsbrook it will do for every weak, run-down or debilitated person in this vicinity. Acknowledging the Corn.

That millions of dollars may be saved annually by testing all seed corn before it is planted is the firm belief of the council of grain exchangers. Posters are being sent out urging farmers to take this precaution and showing how the test may be carried on by school children to their own educational advantage and to the economical gain of farmers.

The poster emphasizes the fact that a farmer loses $4 for each ear of corn planted which does not grow, and that pure seeds means 1,000,000,000 bushels more every year. Seed selection will also add 10 bushels an acre to the corn yield.

The process of testing seed corn is illustrated by diagrams. Each school child in a district is asked to take part in what they term a "rag baby" contest. Twelve ears corn, enough to plant an acre, are to be secured by each child and brought to school. From each ear to be taken, the ears to be numbered and the kernels kept separate and numbered in the same way. These kernels are to be wrapped in a carefully numbered square of damp cloth and protected by a piece of damp gunnysack to keep from drying out.

At the end of six days the squares are unwrapped, and the tabulation takes place. On a slip of paper, numbered like the squares, are squares marked "good," "weak," and "dead." As soon as each square is opened it will be tabulated "good" if the grains have thrown out both sprouts and rootlets; "weak" if only sprouts or rootlets alone, and "dead" if ungerminated.

In this way the farmer will be convinced that he will secure best results by planting the seed which has been carefully tested. The council believes the time is coming when children will test all the seed which is planted, not only corn, but wheat, oats and vegetable seeds.

One ear of corn contains about 800 grains, each of which should produce a stalk bearing an ear. Each ear of corn is then worth $4. Since it means just as much work to plant a poor ear as a good one, the testing of corn becomes a great economic factor which farmers will surely observe.

LIKE FINDING MONEY

W. S. Lloyd Offers Popular Medicine at Half-Price.

W. S. Lloyd, the popular druggist, is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure.

It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means for it is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist W. S. Lloyd that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents, he urged the proprietors to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgment for the sale has been something remarkable.

Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, W. S. Lloyd will return your money. 43-45-47

What "Sterling" means on silver--what the Pure Food Label means on food--that assurance of first-class quality--you will get in every piece of hosiery that bears the name

Black Cat

America's Handsomest Hosiery

The "ABRAHAM LINCOLN"

TEST FOR HOSE:—"You can fool some of the people all the time, and all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

Apply this test to 28 years' production of Black Cat Hosiery—36,000 pairs manufactured daily (enough in eighteen days to satisfy Boston, in two months to supply Chicago, enough to clothe every foot in Greater New York three times a year)—over 8,000 dealers handle these splendid hose as a permanent line year after year.

It Must Have Remarkably Good Quality

This store thoroughly recommends Black Cat for all the family, because of its well-nigh perfect record for giving satisfaction. In the quality of its yarns, the perfection of its knitting, the lustre, beauty, variety, and stylishness of its shades, its sheerness, its snug, permanent fitting qualities, its unalloyed comfort, and its durability, tens of thousands of Americans will testify that Black Cat Hosiery leads all others.

Have you seen the "Comfit"?

A very decided step forward in hosiery making. Here's a stocking that actually combines perfect beauty and perfect comfort—full fashioned where needed, along the leg and ankle for style and fit, but seamless for non-ripping heel, and easy on the sole of the foot. You can't afford to overlook the Black Cat "Comfit."

Children's "Black Cat"

has been the favorite of several generations—children have grown up to buy for their own—can we say more than—"It has stood the test."

Men, Here It Is!

No. 235 for summer wear has no equal—a silk-lisle half hose. It has the extended heel and toe—with the sheer beauty and gauze effect over the ankle. No. 325—Here is the "last word" in silk—doubly reinforced at heel and toe—with beautiful finish in exquisite colors—completes a gentleman's wardrobe.
